Since Mannings inception in 1958 the Company has steadily established an impressive international reputation for the design and manufacture of quality products. Mannings name is now synonymous with well designed, high quality products, competitive prices and realistic delivery times.

Most of the standard equipment shown in this brochure is available ex stock for fast delivery to industry worldwide. Our experience in the export field ensures that your order is processed quickly and can be dispatched by any means of transport.

In addition Mannings welcome opportunities to design and build to your specific requirements and our team of design and development engineers are always ready to quote for special equipment. We are also keen to advise on modifications to, or refurbishment of, customers' existing furnaces, ovens, & heat treatment equipment. Mannings' integrity coupled with customer satisfaction is the corner stone upon which this successful family business has been built.

If you have a heat treatment problem and you feel we may be able to help - call us - by telephone, fax or Email.
